STUDYING PLANS for the construction of the Sierra Madre float to be entered in the Rose Parade are these volunteer workers who, at last report, have completed 90 per cent of the job. About the only remaining task

Float Chairman Lauds Progress, Volunteers

Two groups of Sierra Madreans deserve special recognition for their part in bringing Sierra Madre's Tournament of Roses entry nearer to completion, according to Col. Walter Thurber, chairman of the Float Committee.

They are the teen-agers, who raised $340 to help finance the float, in a two-day sale of artificial roses, and a group of men who have given their entire weekends for several weeks, in completing the framework of the float.

Announcement of the winners in the rose sale contest, competing for tickets to the Queen's Coronation Ball, will be announced later, according to Mrs. Claude Brown, chairman.

CARPENTERS, building contractors, engineers and businessmen were among those joining in the common endeavor at the city yards, for the initial work on "Young America Dreams," the entry for the parade, with this year's theme, "Day Dreams in Flowers." The float depicts a boy dreaming of a future in the White House.

Coordinator of the construction crew is Robert Green, with William Harris as consultant, and Manuel de la Torre, superintendent on the job.

Others working on the float are E. J. Alfrey, Art Albertson, Verne Eppard, William Estes, Sam McDonald, Bjarne Goldmann, Clifford Stowell, John Tavis, Robert Castenada and James Tyler.

Manuel and Jack Rhodes were responsible for the welding. Also consulting with the builders is Bernard Wynne, who made the final drawing of the float.

GIRLS DESERVING special thanks for participation in the rose sale are Louise Carlson, Judy Quick, Jean Nordyke, Carol Caldarello, Sandy Tavis, Susan Berdahl, Diane Baskerville, Judy Haymaker, Jana Rudbach, Lynn Foster, Betty O'Brien, Deanna Phillips, Muriel Peterson, Pat Stetson, Beverly Fairbairn, Janet Dickson, Polly LaLone, Linda Reavis, Judy Young and Betty Foster.

Also, Cynthia Ellet, Carol Colvin, Dodie Bush, Sue Maloney, Linda Green, Barbara Sanders, Joan Rogers, Bonnie Long, Beth Brown, Karen Morris, Carol Draeger and Vicki Paddock.

News Wins A-D L Award In Southwest

The Sierra Madre News was presented an award at the Beverly Hills Hotel Sunday night at the ninth annual dinner meeting of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, Pacific Southwest Regional Board.

The award, made annually, was accepted by Harry W. Elwood, editor-publisher. It said:

"In recognition of singular journalistic contributions to inter-religious and inter-group harmony through the promoting of justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among the residents of Sierra Madre, Calif."

It came as a result of stories and editorials in The News early this year concerning the controversy over a Christmas play.

The award, a marble and bronze plaque, was presented by Milton Senn, executive director of the A-D-L in this region, who read prefacing remarks concerning The News written by William Kenneally, CBS news analyst.

Be Sure to Waterproof Outdoor Tree Decorations

By Gordon Baker Lloyd

Outdoor trees are easily decorated with so many things, but whatever you hang on the tree, be sure they are waterproof and windproof. In some of the current magazines can be seen lid cut-outs hanging on a tree with a bright spot. These are something to see.

Any bright can bottom or lid is cut from the outside edge into the middle in pie sections or as many cuts as you want to make. These are not made clear to the center, but almost. These sections are then twisted a little to give reflection. They can be hung in a tree with wire and if they twirl in the wind let them!

The can lid on one side will be silver, and on the other copper, or you can spray them to suit yourself. With these lids have long cuts of tin that can come from gallon cans.

THESE GIVE different shape to the decorations and can be painted as you see fit or left alone. Any outside tree will look better with some motion and these give it in great style—providing at night you give a strong reflector light that will shine on the tree. When this light is done in color the reflection on the lids and strips will also take on color. To give the tree white effect, the plastic balls we have can be used. These must be wired tight to the stem in groups of one and three so that they cannot blow.

Have you ever tried soap flakes and with a little water and an egg beater made a thick mass of the material? This is spread on limbs of the tree . . . fine until several rains wash it off, but normally it will stand a lot of abuse and not hurt the tree limbs. This snow effect is real good and can be used on fence posts, roof gables, etc.

Lloyds Plan Outdoor Display Sunday, 7 to 8

On Sunday, Dec. 15, Gordon Baker Lloyd will show at his studio-house in his front yard how to use various lights and wiring for outdoor Christmas decorating. The address is 268 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre; time between 7 and 8 p.m. only.

Shown will be the newest light holders, outdoor wiring, use of flood lights, etc., found in our two local hardware stores.

The Lloyds have a Sunday night broadcast from their studio and the time must be absolutely adhered to. Nothing, of course, will be for sale.

Dem Asks Tax Cut Program

A "major tax cutting program" was proposed by a ranking Democrat Tuesday night at a Preview of Candidates dinner in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Alan Cranston, former president of the California Democratic Council and a leading candidate for state controller, proposed "slashing through all the red tape, making it possible for Californians to pay their state income taxes simply by sending a copy of their Federal form to Sacramento."

About 150 persons attended the dinner sponsored by the 48th Assembly District Democratic Council to give area residents an opportunity to hear prospective Democratic candidates for state-wide offices.

"A SIGNIFICANT tax reduction would result," said Cranston, who acted as master of ceremonies, "if every federal, state and county tax form showed just where every tax dollar is spent."

Such a system, he said, would spotlight all needless spending right where it hurts the most, thus permitting the taxpayers to abolish all frills.

Judge Stanley Mosk, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, said a law forbidding minors (under 21) from crossing the Mexican border without "written consent of their parents or guardians" would greatly reduce the opportunity for juveniles to indulge in promiscuous and addictive habits.

Mosk also declared: "California is in dire need of the establishment of a narcotics institution modeled after the Federal hospitals in Lexington, Ky. and Fort Worth, Tex."

It is his opinion a thousand miles is too long a distance for an addict to travel and still be able to resist temptation.

The consensus of the many candidates present indicated a "sweeping victory for the Democratic Party," which is being symbolized by the wearing of a miniature broom on the lapel.

Glenn Anderson, former assemblyman from Hawthorne, bidding for the seat of lieutenant governor, differentiated between the Democratic and Republican Parties by stating:

"The Democratic Party has always been the first to initiate civil rights legislation; to adopt a program for full employment and state-wide legislation of a fair employment practices act."

OTHER CANDIDATES presenting themselves included Tom Carrell from San Fernando, also in the race for lieutenant governor; Los Angeles contender for secretary

Burglar Robs Box In Church

Two burglaries—one at St. Rita's Church and one in a private residence—were reported to Sierra Madre police this week.

Tuesday afternoon, three money boxes in St. Rita's Church were pried open and their contents stolen. The thief apparently entered through the unlocked door. The amount missing is not known.

On Monday, Dorothy H. Koenig, 95 E. Mira Monte, reported a burglary at her house.

Police said entry was gained by cutting the kitchen screen door and smashing the window on the inside door. The house was ransacked "in a neat manner," police said, but the only thing missing is a portable radio.

The burglary was reported by Miss Koenig when she returned home at 10:20 p.m. Monday.

Earlier in the week, Rev. George Lindsay reported to police the theft of two ornamental light fixtures from the entranceway to the Congregational Church.

Jews Will Observe Chanukah

The celebration of Chanukah, the Feast of Dedication and Lights, will begin next Tuesday, Dec. 17, at sundown and continue for eight days.

This holiday commemorates the first fight for religious freedom, and commemorates the Jewish victory against the Syrians and ancient Greeks, who aimed to defeat Judaism. This revolt was started by the high priest Mattathias and continued under his son, the great commander, Judas Maccabee. Three years after the Temple had first been defiled, Jewish soldiers victoriously entered Jerusalem, cleansed, repaired and rededicated this Temple.

When the priests prepared to kindle the perpetual light, the Menorah, only one small cruse of unpolluted oil with the seal of the High Priest unbroken, was discovered.

It was believed to be sufficient for only one day's service, but it miraculously lasted for eight days, until olives were obtained and fresh oil was made. Services were joyfully resumed with song and psalms to God and the celebration continued for eight days. Lights were also lit in the homes and this has continued in Jewish homes throughout the world since 164 B.C.E.

At the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima St., Sierra Madre, there will be special services during these eight days, with Rabbi Steckel conducting and Cantor Blumenthal assisting.

Plans for next year will be discussed, including those on financial arrangements. Everyone will be given an opportunity to discuss various phases of this program.

Latest addition to the list of team sponsors is the local Kiwanis Club. Their help, like that of all other backers, is greatly appreciated.

Young salesmen taking part in the holly sale should be prepared to deliver the bags and kits sold recently. All boys taking orders are asked to meet at 650 Auburn at 10 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 21, for instructions. Everyone is asked to be there to avoid delay in deliveries.

Post Office Asks Patrons' Assistance

The Sierra Madre Post Office has issued special suggestions to its patrons to facilitate the delivery of Christmas mail.

The Post Office will be open Saturday, Dec. 14, and Saturday, Dec. 21, from 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. weekdays, Dec. 9 through 23, from 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. It is closed all day Sundays.

Postmaster Charles Louk suggests that for best year-round service, mail be separated into "local" and "out-of-town" and tied in bundles.

If correspondence is mailed early, it will spread the mail load over a greater number of days and prevent a last minute rush, Mr. Louk said.

Be sure that your house number and mail box is visible to the carrier. A cardboard carton labeled "mail" may be used for a temporary mail box. If mail is erroneously delivered, the Post Office asks that patrons place it in the mail box where it will be picked up on the next delivery.

Only mail addressed to Sierra Madre is "local." Mail addressed to adjoining cities, such as Arcadia, Monrovia, etc., is "out-of-town."

'Treenappers' At It Again

One of Sierra Madre's "embarrassed" Christmas trees was kidnapped, barrel and all, last Monday from in front of 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Al Paus, an accountant whose offices are at 160 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., reported the incident to police who, in short order, found the barrel, minus the tree, at the corner of Hermosa and Orange Grove.

Police believe juveniles pulled the job, as they do every year.

Rites Friday for George Douet, 30-Year Resident

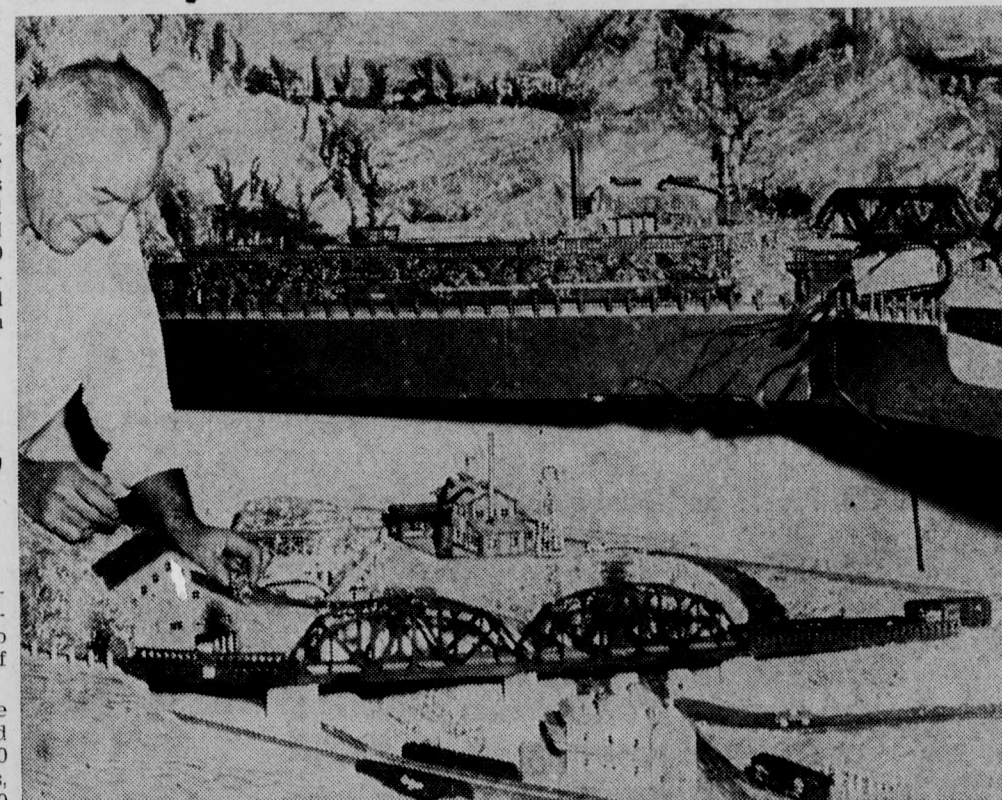

George B. Douet, a resident of Sierra Madre since 1927, died at a Monrovia guest home Dec. 10 following a lengthy illness. He resided at 341 Sturtevant Dr.

A native of Jamaica, British West Indies, Mr. Douet moved to California in 1920. He is survived by his wife, Marion M. Douet; a brother, Arthur Douet, and sister, Mrs. Winifred Curphey, both of Jamaica.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the Riple Mortuary Chapel. Interment will be in Live Oak Memorial Park.

Hobby Aids Children in St. Luke

PUTTING a finishing touch on one of his trains is Donald V. Parker of Sierra Madre who is doing something different with a hobby.

By Isabell Wilkerson

A hobby can develop into a lot more than just an end in itself. It can lead the way to a new career, bring personal fame, or perhaps most important, bring a great deal of happiness to others.

Right now at 302 W. Carter, Sierra Madre, there's an unusual project going on. Nearing the stage of completion is a miniature electric railroad, the kind that would bring a sparkle to any youngster's eyes.

Of course there are lots of model railroads and lots of railroad builders, but this one is different. This has a story behind it.

Two years ago, the builder of this particular railroad, Donald V. Parker, had a heart attack. Up to that time he'd been a successful teacher, first as a coach and later in the field of biology. He'd spent 36 years in his profession, 30 of them in the Los Angeles School District. Then he learned what it was like to spend time in a hospital, but more important, he met a Dr. P. R. Woodworth.

FORCED to retire from teaching, Mr. Parker turned to an earlier hobby—woodworking. He fashioned an H.O. gauge model railroad, complete with tunnels, scenery and buildings for his three small grandchildren. About that time one of them, Douglas, aged 4, spent some time in the Pediatrics Ward at St. Luke's.

Mr. Parker saw how bored and pathetic the small patients were. They had excellent care, but the days were long, and for some of them there were only a few battered toys with which to play.

It was then that Mr. Parker and Dr. Woodworth got an idea. Why not build a model railroad for the hospital? Dr. Woodworth promised to raise the necessary funds to finance the building and Mr. Parker elected to give all his time to construction.

THE RAILROAD is now well on its way toward becoming a reality. Mr. Parker has used a T.T. (table track) gauge, which is even smaller than the usual H.O. gauge. On a movable 7 by 34 foot table, he has built 10 feet of track, winding through tunnels, and over a trestle bridge. There's a sawmill, a mine on the hillside, a country village, power

Council Also Amends Rubbish Ordinance

Bethany Home for Girls, after more than two years of bickering, was granted a business license Tuesday night by a unanimous vote of the City Council.

The Council's action followed the home's receipt of a conditional use permit from the Planning Commission. Miss Margaret E. Thomas, director of the home, made the official request for a business license.

Bethany, located on W. Alegria, is in an R-1 zone but has been operating the past year or more as a home for girls from 16 to 20 years of age. Its business license, which will be issued free of charge, must be renewed annually.

Play Carols in Stereophonic Sounds

Shoppers in downtown Sierra Madre are getting their Christmas carols this year in stereophonic sound, courtesy of The Music Shop and Ampex Corp.

Loud speakers have been placed on roofs at each end of Kersting Ct., with the most realistic sound converging near the Nativity scene.

Telephone lines carry the music from Kersting Ct. to W. Sierra Madre Blvd., where it is picked up and amplified by Page TV. Ampex is the manufacturer of the stereophonic equipment.

Live music may be heard this Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. when Sierra Madre Girl Scouts add to the traditional Christmas festivities by singing carols in Kersting Ct.

The troops will sing old familiar carols in unison and then break up to serenade various homes and the Sierra Madre Hospital, according to Mrs. Hugh Warner, leaders' representative.

The evening will close with individual troop Christmas parties at members' homes.

UNDER THE license granted Tuesday, the home must comply with all conditions of the use permit.

It may care for girls 16 to 20 years of age who are "neglected and dependent, but not delinquent," and may not house more than 20 persons, including the staff, at any one time.

Also, no signs may be posted nor may the home's license be transferred without prior consent of the City Council.

IN OTHER business, the Council:

1. Voted to amend the present ordinance exempting some 325 residences from paying rubbish collection fees. Mr. Bevington reported that a check has been made and probably 80 per cent of the homes exempted now put out rubbish.

This means, in other words, that everybody in Sierra Madre who has an active water meter must in the future pay the rubbish collection fee.

2. Agreed to visit the unsightly dumping grounds on the northwest corner of the Water Department property, above the swimming pool, to decide how to improve the area.

The Council received a written complaint signed by several residents of the area. Dirt, chunks of asphalt and other debris have been piled there.

The Council discussed the possibility of leveling the dirt, and covering it with asphalt, but no action was taken.

3. AUTHORIZED the advertising for bids on a third police car which will be used primarily for investigative work.

4. Authorized the employment of Arnold R. Ponesas as a police patrolman. This will bring the Police Department to its fully authorized personnel of 13 men, including the chief.

5. Upheld a Planning Commission decision rezoning a tract of land at 2201 N. Santa Anita from R-1-15 to R-1-11. The land, owned by Mrs. Florence Gustin, apparently will be subdivided into several lots of slightly more than 11,000 feet each.

Two residents, William Rethy and George Hillman, who live immediately south of the Gustin property, protested the change.

New Business Launched in Sierra Madre

Members of the Mt. Alverno Guild elected Mrs. R. J. Hilbe president to serve for the next guild year, which begins in January. She succeeds Mrs. E. D. Pulone, first president of the guild, formed just one year ago.

Election of officers was held at a recent meeting in St. Rita's Hall. Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Hilbe are: first vice-president—historian, Mrs. A. V. Willmas; second vice-president—membership, Mrs. J. H. Quigley; third vice-president—ways and means, Mrs. E. D. Pulone; secretary, Mrs. H. F. Mitchell; treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Maloney. The officers were installed by Mother Macaria, Provincial at Mt. Alverno.

Also, annual reports of committee chairmen were given, which summarized a successful year. Members were pleased to learn membership has increased to 200 in the short time since the guild's organization.

Of immediate interest was the financial success of the Christmas Bazaar Nov. 24 at the Elks Club in Monrovia. Friends of the Sisters of St. Francis from all parts of the San Gabriel Valley, Los Angeles and Lynwood visited the bazaar with their families.

Ruth Family Announces New Arrival

Martali Renee Ruth, born Nov. 7, is the newest member of the Linus C. Ruth family, now residing in Zurich, Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruth, well-known Sierra Madre residents, formerly lived at 430 N. Auburn. Mrs. Ruth was active in both the Civic Club and the Community Nursery School Association.

According to a recent letter from Mrs. Ruth, the four children, Barbara, Buzzy, Stewart, and Janice now speak German fluently.

Mrs. Ruth said the schools are further advanced than in America, and emphasize on old-fashioned methods and phonics. However, according to Mrs. Ruth, they lack entirely the social activities found in California schools. She feels that a combination of the Zurich system and the California system would make for a perfect school.

She added that there is nothing in Zurich, unfortunately, to replace the Community Nursery School.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Why a Chamber?

Why have any churches? Why have any railroads or transportation facilities? Why have any sidewalks? Why have any waterpower for moving wheels? Why have a daily newspaper?

Why have a spring in your watch?
Why have any thrift or industry in your soul?
Why get married and have a wife?
Why have any children? They are expensive and often somewhat of a nuisance, and they have to be educated?

Why have any schools? We could very well get along without any schools, and hire other people to write our letters and read aloud to us.

Why, for heaven's sake WHY have any automobiles? We can walk. Automobiles entail better and better roads and they cost us a lot. We can get along without a lot of things if we only are willing to abandon the automobile altogether.

Why light a fire in your furnace winters? Buy a sleeping bag and go to bed, like the comfortable bear and suck your paws for sustenance.

Why try to do anything?

We are SO tired. Let's lie down and rest by the wayside while other Communities march past us, singing brave and courageous songs.

There is but ONE answer to the questions. We get nowhere unless we cooperate and decide to work, sacrifice, and envision, as ONE.

There is no other exchange for Municipal cooperative thought and action that is in any way equal to the Chamber of Commerce.

The history of Chambers of Commerce in America is one of the proudest chapters in the history of the American Republic or in the Empire of Great Britain. They have done more for American citizenship and civilization than any other other one civic influence.

Sooner abandon some civic clubs, than abandon the Chamber of Commerce—and we are as devoted to these civic clubs as we are to anything on earth, aside from the church and the Constitution.

We know all of the arguments about Chambers of Commerce. But do you notice that they STILL LIVE. They never were stronger. Never did the U. S. Chamber of Commerce wield a greater power than today. In the present state of affairs it is a balance wheel on the American dynamo or to put it in different metaphor: it is a sheet anchor for the ship of state.

We face a crisis in affairs. These are the times that try men's souls. The DUTY of men of Sierra Madre is to sustain a Chamber of Commerce here, and to hold up the hands of the people who seek to keep in step with the remainder of the cities of America in the onward march.

We may not sleep by the roadside, while the army marches on. For the certainty is that some cities actually die. Some are passed by. Some sleep, while others work. Why have a Chamber of Commerce?

Why wind your watch? (By ANTHONY CAVALLI, Executive Secretary, Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce)

WHAT MAKES JOHNNY

RUN?—One of the nicest young men in Washington is Sen. John F. Kennedy. It's too bad that he been bitten by the presidential bug.

In these parts a man who wants to become President is said to be afflicted by Potomac Fever. It does strange things to all sorts of normally level-headed people. He's running so hard for the White House I suspect he will be out of breath before another year passes.

I suppose it's too much to suggest that any man ask himself, "Honestly, what have I done to deserve a Presidential nomination?" While a man will not ask this of himself, others are certain to ask it. And when you examine the Kennedy record there unfortunately just isn't much of a record.

It's not that he has voted "wrong" so many times. The AFL-CIO rates him pretty highly and so does Americans for Democratic Action, except that he was absent during the McCarthy censure vote. The trouble with Kennedy is that his record is mostly verbal. He just hasn't done much except make speeches.

WHO'S USING WHOM?—Tactically the list of Kennedy's mistakes is as long as your arm. He got eager for the White House a year ago at the Democratic convention in Chicago when he came within a few votes of winning the vice presidential nomination away from Sen. Kefauver.

From that moment on, so the story goes, Papa Joe Kennedy, the Massachusetts millionaire, decided that before he passes on he was going to see his son take up residence at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Papa Joe is a very determined man, with a free-flowing fountain pen. While Papa Joe is long on cash he seems short on judgment. What he apparently fails to realize, or doesn't want to realize, is that the vote at the Democratic convention was not pro-Kennedy. It was anti-Kefauver.

Look at the roster of states that voted for Kennedy. First there was virtually the whole Deep South. Then the big city machine bosses. Then the Rayburn-Johnson followers from the oil country?

Why did they want Kennedy? Obviously because they thought the trust-busting, rackets-busting Kefauver could not be controlled. They were gambling that Kennedy was more pliable.

AS WE read the Kennedy timetable his managers have decided that the first thing he must do is win a solid core of support for 1960 in the Deep South. So he's gone everywhere from Gainesville, Fla., to Jackson, Miss. Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas took time off from praising Gov. Faubus' action at Little Rock to say "Kennedy has definite Presidential potential."

Georgia's Democratic chairman, John S. Bell, says "it's highly likely" his state delegation will support Kennedy for President. Sens. Herman Taldage and Richard Russell even arranged a dinner in Atlanta for the youthful aspirant.

Kennedy may think this is all great stuff. What he doesn't seem to understand is that the Old South is desperate. In its desperation it pretends to be willing to overlook Kennedy's religion. Maybe it will and maybe it won't. To the rest of the country becoming known as the white supremacy bloc is a distinct liability. And that's what I mean by being "badly advised." Whoever is managing Kennedy needs a refresher course in politics.

PARKY, THE TIDY KANGAROO, is a friendly fellow, and patient, too, but his patience with litterbugs is running out. Perhaps, Parky thinks, the time has come to bear down on the scenery spoilers—to ticket and fine them when they are seen littering highways, beaches and parks. "Most people help to keep California beautiful," Parky says. "It's too bad we must use the law to make some folks understand their litter belongs in trash cans, not on roadsides."

Letters to the Editor

DISAPPOINTED

Dear Sir:

Concerning released time from classes in the public schools for the purpose of religious education, I for one was deeply disappointed in your stand, because heretofore you had seemed eminently fair and wise.

By way of putting first things first, why teach our children to read and write at all if they are not also taught discernment? Why teach them arithmetic, if all it adds up to in the end is a fatal armament race between nations?

I'm sure our forefathers would be aghast at the length to which we have gone to separate the church and state and to teach our children if they were able. Instead, they are willing and glad to approve a released time plan for this task by those who are competent to teach it.

Our children should have that guidance which can give direction to their lives, and meaning and purpose to their individual places in society. Let us not deny them a few minutes a week for this desperate need.

Very truly yours,
BEULAH THOMAS
(Mrs. Eber Thomas)

"PREVENTIVE MEDICINE"
A few years ago, when I first came to this area, I gave time and effort in behalf of the Coordinating Council of Sierra Madre, serving successfully as its secretary and later vice-chairman. I was instrumental in organizing the Family Service of Sierra Madre, and was a member of its first Board. All this because I had been called as pastor to a church whose membership included a large number of Sierra Madreans. We felt an obligation to the people of Sierra Madre!

The day after the School Board met, I received a letter from FAMILY SERVICE OF SIERRA MADRE, a portion of which I quote herewith:

"Last month, a teen-age Sierra Madre boy, with a record of truancy, stemming from his emotional upset at this parents' marital difficulties was referred by a school psychologist to Family Service for help. It seemed inevitable that without such help, a break-up in the marriage, school failure or drop out for the boy, punishment for truancy and increasing emotional turbulence lay ahead. Any of these would ill prepare him to assume a responsible role in society. Reluctantly, Family Service had to say, 'No funds available for service.'"

"... It was because of this concern that we asked and received from Community Chest a greatly increased allotment for 1958. But in order to have all of these funds available for use, we must enter '58 with a clear slate. At this writing, we have an indebtedness to Family Service of Pasadena of $500." This quotation from Family Service is one of the best arguments I know for the validity of Released Time Religious Education! Released time is a form of "preventive medicine!" Such a program diminishes the necessity for "shock therapy," which, incidentally, is far more expensive! "Train up a child in the way he should go..." means only one thing. The child should enjoy the privilege of a balanced education, and this includes knowledge of religious as well as scientific and cultural values.

Sincerely,
DONALD H. OSTRANDER,
Pastor, Trinity Presbyterian Church.

P.S. — To correct the Editor's inaccurate notion that a multitude of clergymen do not favor Released Time, I am enclosing a statement representing the corporate thinking of 30 denominations with 37,500,000 members.

HOBBY

lines, a lake and even a dam with real water. The project has its own electrical system. The buildings light up, the trains are remote controlled through a panel at the end of the table. There's even overhead lighting.

The table has been carefully constructed so that it can be wheeled into the hospital rooms between the beds and it's just the right height so small patients can see it without raising up in bed.

Donald Parker spends about five hours a day on this project. All the buildings are handmade to scale with correctness even to the tiniest detail. The trains and track, he says, come in kits, but the rest is designed and built in his home woodwork shop. When the project is complete, it will have a plastic cover to keep it free from dust when not in use.

When asked why he spent so much time on detail, Mr. Parker smiled.

"You know," he said, "the youngsters not only love to look at something like this and play with it, but after it's gone, they'll lay there and dream about it for hours. They deserve the best job I can do."

RECENTLY THE question arose as to who could run the trains for the children. Sister Alfreda, supervisor of pediatrics, and Donald Parker approached the La Salle School. The school will take over the maintenance and supervision of the railroad as a social service project. They are planning to have the older boys do their part for the small patients at St. Luke.

Donald Parker hopes this is only a beginning. He feels there are many hospitals where youngsters' days could be made shorter with toy trains, puppets and toys... perhaps the projects of others like himself who have made a hobby work for someone else.

Cardinal Sponsors Yule Party

Thousands of Southland families and individuals will be assisted by the Cardinal's Christmas Party for Children in the Ambassador Hotel Embassy Room, next Sunday from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Adults and children are invited to enjoy the day's festivities around a huge tree. There'll be entertainment and refreshments and the big moment when Santa Claus arrives.

MISSION BELL

United Lutheran Church
270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.
S.S. at 9. Worship at 10 a.m.

MARTIN LUTHER'S great Battle Hymn of the Reformation, "A Mighty Fortress," was inspired by Psalm 46.

which reads in part, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." This hymn is popular among all Protestants, and so should be the psalm.

TROUBLE? Luther knew what it meant! He insisted on following his conscience and the Bible, and had some of the most powerful men in the world in his day screaming for his blood. But Luther knew that God IS our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. The Lord of Hosts was with Luther. He was delivered from his enemies, and showed the world God's true plan of salvation as the Holy Spirit had shown it to him.

WHEN WORRIES and troubles threaten to overwhelm us, we must be still, and know that God is OUR strength. The just shall live by faith!

TODAY'S THOUGHT—The purpose of the tests of life are to make, not break, us.

SUNDAY'S SERMON—"Assurance From Christ." Read Matthew 11:2-10, then come to church at 10. See you then.

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
Sierra Madre 7-9634

I wonder just how old you have to be before you get over the thrill of seeing the first Santa Claus of the season. My long suffering husband is sure that he has five children this year instead of the customary four.

He thinks I just become unglued at the seams when Dec. 1 rolls around. I start with lots and lots of hectic plans. I decorate the house like a woman possessed. I take on projects that would normally take me months to complete and somehow they all get finished by the time they should, as I sink in a limp heap in the middle of the floor and breath a sigh of relief swearing I'll never be so foolish again.

He says in a hopeful voice, "Don't you think we ought to be practical this year and not try to do so much?"

He's right and 364 days a year I can be practical, but I just snap when I see Dec. 25 on the calendar. Next year I'll do much better, I'm sure! But it's too late to change this year.

THE PAT TUMILTY'S, 1405 Sierra Madre Villa, had a wonderful surprise a week ago Sunday. They were expecting two couples to drop in for the afternoon. After the guests arrived Mrs. Tumilty excused herself to see what was the source of the terrible racket and horn blowing outside.

To her complete amazement, there were some 40 people coming to call on her. Her first reaction was that she wondered if they were coming to dinner. They were giving the Tumilts a housewarming cocktail party. They presented them with a lovely modernistic wall clock. The party was organized by Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Walker, Clarence Kanak and Barney Napier.

MRS. GEORGE L. MORRISON and Mrs. Charles Dickinson are entertaining 24 members of the Michillinda Women's Club at the Morrison home at 1878 Sierra Madre Villa. The entire luncheon is to be carried out in a candlelight theme. The front door has been decorated with a huge candle, and each individual card table is being decorated with green cloth and a candle centerpiece.

THE WALTER V. DORN Jr. have moved into their recently completed home at 1620 Sierra Madre Villa. They have two daughters, Sharon, who is 19 and attending Pasadena City College, Kathy, who is 6, is attending Eugene Field School. Kathy celebrated her 6th birthday just last Thursday with a few friends from her former neighborhood as well as a few of her new friends from the hill. Mr. Dorn is a well-known figure in Pasadena as most people are familiar with Walter Dorn Jewellers.

MR. AND MRS. BEN S. ROGERS, 1802 Pasadena Glen, had a 7-pound, 7-ounce baby boy on Dec. 3. They have named him James Alton. The Rogers have three other children, Rita, who is 10, Carol, 8, and Donnie, 6. The baby was born at St. Luke Hospital.

BABYWISE, I talked to Mrs. Harold Smith and she informed me that her oldest daughter had just given birth to a baby girl. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hume, and the baby is Nancy Kay. Nancy has two brothers at home.

THE ALLYN BARBER household at 1876 Country Lane is in a turmoil of plans preceding their daughter Ellen's wedding on Dec. 18. She is marrying Lt. George Bennett Halperin Jr. of the U.S. Navy. Miss Barber has been feted at many parties and showers in San Francisco. Her maid of honor, Miss Nancy Wiser, is expected down from San Francisco this weekend and will be a houseguest until after the wedding.

MRS. LUVERNE LAMOTTE (left), vice chairman of the Pasadena Board of Education, was guest of honor at a "coffee" Friday morning at the Barhite home of Mrs. Skipper Rostker (right). In addition to Mrs. Rostker, hostesses were Mrs. Samuel Joseph (second from left), Mrs. T. Bruce Graham, Mrs. Arthur Mann and Mrs. Donald Lingren. Mrs. LaMotte informally discussed work of the School Board and answered questions of Hastings Ranch women in attendance.

Field Mothersingers Have Busy Christmas Schedule

Mothersingers of Eugene Field, receiving much recognition for their civic performances, find themselves booked five times for the Christmas season.

On Dec. 3, the group of 19 women entertained at Sister Kenny Hospital and Monday sang for the Pasadena PTA Council meeting at Jefferson Recreation Center.

CF Guild Members At Dance

Members of Hastings Ranch Guild of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and their husbands met last Saturday night in Eaton's Santa Anita Restaurant for their annual Christmas dinner dance.

Red and silver Christmas trees were centered on each of the tables. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Frandsen were host and hostess at the party.

Guests in attendance included Mr. and Mrs. C. Don Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. William Bevan, Mr. and Mrs. John DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardison, Mr. and Mrs. John Behr, Mr. and Mrs. John Eggleston and Mr. and Mrs. John Bolde-mann.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Highman, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bremer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elwood, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rode, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus L. Pruitt.

G. R. Faheys Entertain At Party
Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Fahey, 1215 Coronet, entertained last Saturday night at an "Open House."

Invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Young, Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Strangman, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cox, Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christianson and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelley.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Housel, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Willumson and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Brady.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Templar, Mr. and Mrs. William Shiner, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norton, Mr. and Mrs. William Killeen and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ladwig.

Today they are entertaining at the Field teachers luncheon, presented annually by the members of the PTA executive board.

Next Wednesday, they will perform twice, entertaining the Field children during their two lunch hours with the singing of "The Night Before Christmas."

On Dec. 20 the group will sing at the British Home in Sierra Madre.

The Mothersingers, who are just mothers who like to sing and enjoy regular combination practice sessions and coffee hours, have fun together as well as giving community service. They plan a luncheon of their own at the Sea Food Tavern after they are through with performance at the faculty luncheon.

Mrs. Cal Brown, a charter member of the group, will be hostess for the annual Christmas party Dec. 20 at her home, 3885 Shadow Grove.

Their Christmas program includes the carols, "Coven-try Carol," "Carol of the Bells," and "As I Fell Upon a Night," and "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" (J. S. Bach), and "The Night Before Christmas" (Clement Clark Moore, Fred Waring arrangement).

Mrs. John LaMontagne is chairman of the Mothersingers this year, with Mrs. V. C. Hayden as director and Mrs. Raymond Bowers as accompanist.

Only 10 more shopping days until Christmas: 12 more days until Christmas, not counting today 'cause it sounds shorter. Best you get that shopping done before Christmas Eve because it takes some of the fun out of it if you are all rushed. Tie a string around your finger so you don't forget that aunt who lives off in another part of the country. Check that list well, you might have overlooked someone.

Arroyo Seco (Dry Gulch) Best Site for Ball Park

By Charles Ayres

At this season of taxes and Christmas bills, it's nice to know others have their troubles, too. Kind of a "misery loves company" thing. It has gone so far that even little old Pasadena has been implicated.

It seems that enough people were talked into being righteously indignant over the transfer of a ravine to force a vote leaving the Los Angeles Dodgers with a problem. On the theory that everyone wants to see them perform at the same time, there has been all sorts of activity to further louse up the Coliseum. Apparently no one particularly objects to this except that the rent is too high.

SO WHAT happens? They check out the Rose Bowl which is real dandy for large crowds but doesn't leave any place to play. Reports have it that this has really broken up our city officials and they are experiencing some difficulty containing their mirth.

The fact remains that the old "dry gulch" is still the best location (although not in the Rose Bowl) and maybe if this came to pass our miseries would decrease as the tax bills go down. The only thing is, what would we do with Wrigley Field?

Pasadena also has a big stake in the miseries that have befallen UCLA and USC. As long as they continue to remain amateurs

UMBRELLAS INDOORS!

Despite all the superstitions about this day and date, tomorrow proves to be a very full, and let's hope, wonderful day. To start, the PTA is serving free ice cream to all kids in all the classes who received 100 per cent in the Football Circus ticket drive. During the 5th and 6th periods the movie, "Dial M for Murder," will be shown to the entire student body for their wonderful spirit in selling tickets to the circus.

After that thriller, everyone will wander home and get ready for "Santa's Swing" the Christmas dance. It will be in the girls' gym from 8 to 11. Refreshments will be served at a price, of course, and a great time is hoped for by all.

THE COMPASS ROSE, Mariner Ship, held a car wash at the East Pasadena Youth Center last Saturday. It was a real enormous success and all the kids had a blast washing cars all day.

THE WILSONIAN, Christmas edition will be circulated sometime Wednesday. Rumors say it is going to be better than the papers put out this year, Jan Price, editor, has done a terrific job.

Norm Shanks Honored by Camp Fire

Norman Shanks, 3640 Newhaven, known throughout the Southern California area for his interest in youth groups, has received a certificate of appreciation from the San Gabriel Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls for his work in behalf of Camp Waswegen, summer camp high in the San Bernardino Mountains.

The presentation was made at the annual council banquet meeting in the Pasadena Women's City Club last Wednesday, at which Mrs. Jack Mays was installed as the new president of the council.

Also of interest to the Hastings area was the installation of Dr. Joseph Michaels, Eugene Field School principal, as vice president of the council.

Other new officers include Mrs. Sidney Wyse, also a vice president; Mrs. Joseph A. Sprinkle Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Mary Bunce, treasurer.

Mrs. Hoyt Martin, retiring president, received the Luther Gulick award for active outstanding service to the local council.

A newly produced film, "The Camp Fire Girl," was shown as part of the program.

Needlework Guild Annual Party Dec. 19

Members of the Hastings Ranch Section of Needlework Guild of America, and their guests, will meet next Thursday for the group's annual Christmas party.

Champagne cocktails will be served at 12 o'clock noon at the home of Mrs. Louise Ross, 3780 Newhaven Rd. Co-hostess will be Mrs. William H. Hillard.

Luncheon will follow at Rancho Hillcrest. Mrs. Alpheus L. Pruitt, director, and

Don Benito PTA Schedules Yuletide Entertainment

Christmas time at Don Benito will highlight many of the traditions associated with the Yuletide season. Entertainment, gifts, party and holiday fun arranged by the Don Benito PTA await the children and their families next week.

"Greetings of the Season Brought by Our Youth Groups," planned by Mrs. Ralph Gann, character education chairman, will be the program for the Dec. 18 meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. It will begin at 7:30 in the school auditorium. Skits, songs ceremony and display of crafts by Cub Scouts, Pack 382 and 383; Boy Scouts, Pack 385, Girl Scouts, Blue Birds and Brownies will interest the whole family. It will be an evening of Christmas entertainment and a good time to meet the youth group leaders.

A short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. John Ranks, president, will precede the program. Refreshments will be served by room representatives, Mrs. John Loomis for Mrs. Maxine Arnold's morning kindergarten and Mrs. Phillip Birkhahn for Miss Ardis Scott's sixth grade.

During the last few days of school before Christmas vacation, Dec. 16 to 18, Don Benito children will have the opportunity to experience the giving to others. Each child is requested by Mrs. Robert Seigle, welfare chairman, to bring to his classroom a pair of new socks colorfully wrapped and labeled. The socks will be given to the Clothing Exchange, Washington Elementary School, and to the Children's Training Society for distribution to needy children.

The annual Christmas party on Dec. 18 will be attended by all Don Benito children. Each classroom will be served refreshments of punch and cookies for the kindergartners, cupcakes for the first, second and third graders, and cakes with Merry Christmas greetings for the fourth, fifth and sixth graders, by the room mothers.

Every child will bring home a homemade party favor, a red felt Santa Claus boot which may be used to decorate his home. Working with Mrs. Warren Cline, room mother chairman, are Mmes. Max Goudge, Harold Bowman Kenneth Senter and Eydun Stires.

On Friday Dec. 20, "Alice in Wonderland" will be shown in the auditorium to bring holiday fun to all the children in the community. There will be two showings, 9:30 and 11:30. Admission is 25 cents. The film lasts for 1 hour 15 minutes. There will be plenty of seats for everyone.

Garden Notes . . .

Living Christmas Tree Concept Welcomed in State

Californians—always eager for practical and exciting new ideas—are welcoming wholeheartedly the "living" Christmas tree concept. The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that gardeners consider the new practice instead of buying a tree that is wastefully discarded after each holiday season.

There are two variations to the practice. Some home owners select slow growing or dwarf conifers which will thrive in containers. Each year the tree, container and all, is brought indoors and decorated. The remainder of the year it becomes an outdoor attraction. Other home gardeners select their conifer especially for its use as an outdoor Christmas tree, using it inside only during its first Yule season.

Among the slow growing or dwarf conifers are several varieties which make ideal "living" Christmas trees. One of the selections, the Deodar Cedar, is so widely grown in the state and so traditionally "Christmassy" in appearance, that it has long been called the California Christmas Tree. A native of the Himalayas, the Deodar Cedar provides frosty, blue-green foliage in an attractive conical shape. There is a compact type of Deodar Cedar which seldom reaches 25 feet at full maturity. This is a beautiful and distinguished lawn specimen when it has outgrown its container and has been planted outdoors.

One of the best conifers for a "living" Christmas tree is the symmetrical Norway Spruce (picea abies). This moderate grower has rich, dark green foliage and a habit open enough to make it easy to string bright Christmas lights through it. Another conifer often recommended for use as a "living" Christmas tree is the Colorado Spruce (picea pungens), an extremely slow growing tree. It has handsome, silvery, grey-green foliage which makes a distinctive background for Yule decorations.

One variation, Colorado Blue Spruce (p.p. glauca), has a bluish tinge to its foliage. Both these spruces have very regular, horizontal branches and the traditional pyramidal shape.

"Living" Christmas trees are available at local nurseries throughout the holiday season. Nurserymen have them in 5-gallon containers or balled in burlap. A variety of containers also will be available. Decorating the containers especially for the Yule should be as enjoyable as decorating the tree. There are many beautiful metal foils and colorful patterned cloths and papers which may be used to add a seasonal note to the container.

THREE CONIFERS which are more suitably planted outdoors after one holiday season are the White Fir (abies concolor), a typical and popular cut Christmas tree, the Single Leaf Pine (pinus monophylla) and the Scotch Pine (pinus sylvestris). Since the White Pine makes an effective and attractive hedge or specimen tree, many home owners have used the "living" Christmas tree idea to improve their landscape for years to come.

The "living" Christmas tree, while it is outdoors, can be cared for as easily as any house plant. Watered carefully and kept from especially warm corners, the tree will truly brighten the holidays—and be a joy all year long.

LIGHTING OF THE YULE LOG

VISITORS TO BERMUDA on Christmas Eve have an opportunity to witness a traditional Bermuda custom of the lighting of the Yule Log. Shown above acting out the ancient English ceremony are gaily costumed staff members of a Bermuda hotel. The log is placed in a fireplace and set aflame. Then guests toss sprigs of green, symbolizing the year's woes, into the fire to banish forever such bad luck.

Ripper or Slasher . . .

Local Toastmasters Club Defines Cigarette Smoker

If you are a cigarette smoker, you are either a ripper, slasher, peeler or mincer, according to John DuBois, who recently gave a talk on this subject to the Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club.

These are the pigeon holes in which Mr. DuBois places cigarette-pack openers. On the basis of these, he says, he can determine the twistings and cavortings of your mind.

"When you see a package that looks as though it's been opened in a lion's den—by the lions—then you know a ripper's been at work," states Mr. DuBois. "They tear off the whole top of the pack or commit mayhem on a chosen corner. Yet rippers often have restrained, even timid, personalities."

The "slasher" operates with surgical finesse, according to Mr. DuBois, splitting the pack down the middle with an educated thumb-nail or pocket knife. Those preferring the sides are termed side slashers.

"Slashers are useful around parties where there's generally a lot of groping and grabbing for smokes," he says. "These people are generous to a fault, but are worriers and borrowers. Count on them to sign petitions, baby-sit and laugh at your jokes."

The most deceptive type is the "peeler," who appears outwardly calm and self-possessed, but is inwardly a nervous wreck. Without any tearing, he peels open the pack as deliberately as you would peel a banana.

Women predominate in the "mincer" class, Mr. DuBois says. They open the pack by picking the foil to pieces. These are crafty and irritable personalities.

Specialist in this group is the "holer," who minces a hole in the corner of the pack just big enough for one or two cigarettes to be shaken through.

"Holders are perfectionists," he says. "They are also stingy. But all is not lost, for I knew one in Hastings

New Station Boosts Area Gas Supply

Newsmen from throughout Southern California got a preview look at a $3.5 million compressor station at Needles, Calif., which later this month will boost the Southland's supply of natural gas well beyond the one billion cubic feet a day mark.

On a 60-acre site near the California-Arizona border town of Needles, preparations were being made to start four 2,000-horsepower gas turbo-charged compressors which will send additional millions of cubic feet of natural gas pouring through the distribution systems of the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies.

With the start of operation of the new compressor station, the Needles pipeline will go into full operation as the third major artery bringing natural gas from mid-continent sources to homes, business and industries in Southern California.

The Needles pipeline will add a designated capacity of 227.6 million cubic feet of gas a day to the capacity of the other two existing lines of over 800 million cubic feet, thus providing an assured out-of-state gas supply of over one billion cubic feet daily. The other two 30-inch lines originate at Blythe on the state border.

In addition to touring the Needles Compressor Station, newsmen inspected the world's largest metering station, located near Topock on the Colorado River and owned by El Paso Natural Gas Co. This station measures the gas delivered by the El Paso firm to natural gas distributing companies in California.

Local Mental Health Branch Opens in Valley

Mrs. John L. Johnson, chairman of the interim planning commission, has announced a local branch of the Los Angeles Mental Health Foundation will be formed in the West San Gabriel Valley area.

The foundation, a county-wide organization, is launching an intensive program to organize community support to finance research in mental illness, to provide scholarships to train needed personnel and to underwrite community services for those suffering from emotional illnesses.

In the district of Pasadena and several surrounding communities, the formal organizational meeting is being planned for early in January.

The musicale is planned for all Trinity Guild members and circle members of the church as the climax to a busy year.

FIRE FLAMES

By Chief James Heasley
After living in a secluded area—among the coyotes—a couple sold their place and moved to Sierra Madre, where they were told they would enjoy the comforts of life.
The first morning the wife awoke before sunrise and said:
"Isn't it about time you got up and started the fire?"
"Nope," yawned the old man. "I'll call the Fire Department. We might as well get used to these city conveniences right now."

MANY LETTERS to Santa Claus are coming via the Post Office. These are reaching the local Fire Department's mail box. Most of them are without postage and usually written in scroll or scribbles. Many are answered if an address is found and many come from unknown sources. One of the most amusing and of great interest was well printed in large letters and said:
"I don't deserve any toys. Dad said I lose them."
Others appear as though chickens with muddy feet had walked over the paper.

THE FIREMEN are grateful to those who have taken the trouble to let us know that they want us to continue the Christmas ticket campaign to raise funds for the usual events of the year. We certainly do not want to annoy residents without due reason.
Fortunately, the month of November had five Fridays, and at this time of year, the wives will permit the fellows to use that extra Friday for ticket campaigning. This will save much of the valuable time that each man can use to his own advantage.

DRILLS ARE necessary to all firemen, no matter how many years of experience he has had. Complicated and intricate fire fighting equipment requires a constant acquaintance and the ordinary procedure of getting water to a fire as quickly as possible cannot be neglected.
Professional firemen realize this, and their daily drills and studies keep them busy. We must learn from the experience of others. Therefore, it is required that we attend important fire meetings where such information is released for the betterment of all fire departments. Each fire presents a problem, and the knowledge gained is readily submitted to others.

PREPARATIONS for the coming Yuletide activities are progressing in the usual manner. Each fireman has accepted his quota of tickets to canvass his area. It is a serious offense for him to overreach his territory, because if it is found out, there is great pleasure in bringing him to his feet at our meeting to pay a sassy fine. It's all in fun.

Casa Colina Solicits Contributions

More than 200,000 letters were placed in the mails as Casa Colina, convalescent and rehabilitation center for crippled children, launched its annual Christmas appeal for public support.
The non-profit, non-denominational center is seeking a minimum of $80,000 for operational expense to continue its program of healing and rehabilitating crippled children.
Administrator Harry D. Stewart explained that Casa Colina conducts only one such fund raising campaign yearly. He added that the center is dependent on public support for 60 per cent of its annual operating capital.
Exceeding last year's campaign goal by approximately $20,000, extra funds are needed to offset cost of ever-increasing numbers of crippled children seeking admission. The center also is constantly increasing and broadening its scope of services. Contributions may be addressed to Casa Colina, Chino, Calif.

Aspirin, Medical Standby, Made at Small Cost

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

Aspirin is one of the oldest and most useful standbys in medicine, yet it is often underestimated and misused.

Chemically it is acetylsalicylic acid, a compound which is easy to manufacture at small cost. It goes by a multitude of trade names and drug producers vie with one another to sell aspirin with some special twist—aspirin that dissolves in water before you can say "aspirin," aspirin that is buffered against stomach irritation, aspirin that is "more effective" than the competitor's.

IT IS THE principal active ingredient in a number of proprietary formulas widely promoted for relief of headache, muscular aches and pains.

Actually, aspirin is very low in toxicity. The most common bad effect is a little stomach irritation in some people just after they have taken the pill. This can be effectively prevented by buffering the aspirin, with a pinch of baking soda. Some persons develop allergic rashes with aspirin, and very rarely more serious effects are noted.

Aspirin works through the blood stream on an area of the brain which makes us aware of pain in some portion of the body and cuts down our awareness of the discomfort. That is why gargling with an aspirin solution is not as effective as drinking the same solution, except that the heat produced locally from the hot water is quite effective.

Aspirin also has a temperature-reducing effect, when fever is present. Ingestion of aspirin with a fever is usually followed by a certain amount of increased perspiration as the temperature drops.

IN ADDITION to these effects which are so useful in a wide variety of infections and other illnesses, aspirin has a specific beneficial effect on rheumatic diseases and is still the best thing we have for rheumatic fever.

There is much confusion about dosage. Most adults will be relieved of mild to moderate discomfort with 10 grains, which is two standard adult tablets. Increase of this dose may bring slightly added relief if 10 grains is not effective, but the limit is reached very soon where additional aspirin does no further good.

Doses may be much larger for the treatment of rheumatic fever, however, than for the relief of headache, because of different actions of aspirin than its pain-relieving ability.

Tami-Ka-Da Girls Pass Second Camp Fire Rank

Proudly wearing their new silver Wood Gatherer's rings, symbolic of the passing of their second rank in Camp Fire, are members of the TAMI-KA-DA group of sixth graders from Eugene Field.

The girls, passed by Mrs. C. Lauren Matby, awards chairman for the Sierra-Hastings District of Camp Fire, are Karen Buttane, Irene Estrada, Diane Hitchcock, Jamie Johnson, Jeanne Jennings, Susan Hurtig, Ann Lubisch, Kathy Orswell and Barbara Shanks.

Easy jobs are mighty hard to find—the competition is always so keen.

The Vicar Had The Right Answer

Builders of the world's mightiest cathedrals had plenty of construction problems, but none of them could have faced the prospect of their structures being washed away every spring.

Which is exactly what happened at Moose Factory, Ontario, on the fringe of the Canadian Arctic.

For a few years after the small wooden Church of St. Thomas was built on the banks of the broad Moose River, at Moose Factory, Ontario, parishioners grew more and more concerned. And they had good reason to be. As the ice went out of the river each spring, the swirling waters of the muddy Moose would gently ease the Anglican house of worship off its foundations. Then they would place it down a few yards closer to the north end of town.

Several proposals were made, but only the vicar's was practicable. Instead of fighting the floods, he suggested, why not let them have their way.

At his suggestion, the parishioners bored holes in the floor, then waited for next spring. Sure enough, the flood-waters came. But instead of sweeping away the church, they flowed quietly in through the holes—then flowed out again as the river subsided.

The parishioners checked. The church had not moved an inch.

Though the Moose does not flood as much as before, tourists coming over by canoe from the rail terminus at nearby Moosonee, from where there is direct connection with the Canadian National transcontinental lines at Cochrane and North Bay, pause to talk about the holes in the floor of St. Thomas'. Wooden plugs now keep out the winter cold.

Not only the holes in the floor attract the visitor to the Moose Factory church. Many are charmed by the altar drapes of moosehide, beaded with the painstaking care of Indian craftsmen. The pulpit and lectern are similarly adorned.

Photos: Courtesy Canadian National Railway.

U. S. visitor to St. Thomas' Anglican Church, shown at top, in sub-Arctic Moose Factory, Ontario, Canada, examines wooden plug from one of numerous holes in the church floor. Parishioners bored the holes years ago when floodwaters from nearby Moose River moved the building bodily every spring. After that, the water merely flowed in and out of the church through the holes, leaving its position undisturbed.

Corrupt Practices Act Is Full of Loopholes

By Edgar W. Heistand, Rep., 21st District

One of the loosest pieces of legislation on the books in Washington is the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, especially that section dealing with political contributions by corporations and unions.

It's a law that everyone thinks he understands—until he tries to explain it.

Last week the law came under another test in Detroit. A federal court jury cleared the United Auto Workers Union of charges that it had made contributions to influence the 1954 federal elections.

The union had sponsored a series of television programs on which speakers had boosted Democrat candidates. Since the programs were watched by the general public and were admittedly paid for with union dues, the Justice Department charged the expenditures were illegal.

Most vocal witness for the UAW was its boss, Walter Reuther. He contended the programs were for "educational purposes," namely for informing the union members of the virtues of the candidates, or lack thereof. That the general public happened to be watching the programs was incidental, according to Reuther.

This was the fifth attempt by the Justice Department to convict a union under the Federal Corrupt Practices Act. No attempt has been successful. That the UAW was able to beat the charge, despite all the evidence against it, shows how badly the act needs revision.

Furthermore, a failure to convict in this case virtually opens the door to unlimited political activity by this and other unions—activity financed with union members' dues.

I now have a bill in committee, H.R. 3629, which aims to strengthen and clarify the intent of the law. I intend to work for a complete airing of the matter of illegal political activity during the next session of Congress.

Certain union publications have violated their trust and have made the workers political pawns. In compelling the workers to support financially a political party or lose their jobs, they have violated the fundamental constitutional right of freedom which is guaranteed to all citizens.

ENGLISH LABOR CURBS— Although the labor movement is as strong if not stronger in England than in the United States, the British long ago solved the problem of labor racketeering.

This is due chiefly to a unique system that keeps

British labor bosses from running roughshod over rank and file union members, and file union treasuries to support their own whims. The system has been in operation since 1871, 15 years before the organization of the AFL in the United States.

Obviously it has not hindered the growth of organized labor in Britain, but perhaps has fostered it by preventing gangster elements from making inroads on legitimate labor activity.

Heart of the system is an agency called the Registrar of Friendly Societies. Under the law of 1871 all public associations, such as unions, can be exempt from taxation and business laws if they register. To belong, they must agree to let the Chief Registrar examine their books and discipline them if they violate ethical practices.

About 90 per cent of Britain's unions are registered. The others, of course, face taxation and other restrictions. Every year the registered unions file detailed financial reports, listing every cent they own, every cent they've spent and for what purpose, and every piece of property they own. This is made public and every British citizen, but especially the union membership, can get a copy.

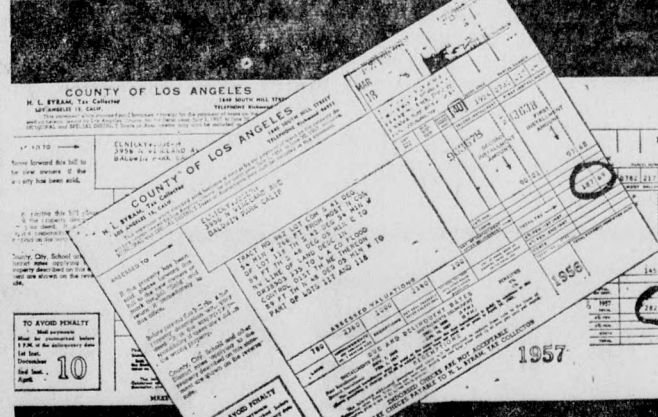

Unions are checked regularly by the Registrar and his staff, and if any union member has any evidence of corruption involving his leaders, he can go immediately to the Registrar and demand an investigation.

American unions do not have any such system of reporting their holdings and expenses, nor of making reports accessible to the rank and file workers. That is one of the reasons why the Jimmy Hoffas, Dave Beck and Johnny Diods have continued to exploit the workingman and his family in the face of overwhelming evidence against such bosses.

The British system may not be the answer in the United States. But it is proof that labor racketeering has a solution, and that Congress can do something to curb this corruption. First, of course, it must resist the pressures that come from organized but corrupt labor groups that want things left "as is."

ASSEMBLYMAN FRANK BONELLI, left, looks over two County tax bills of Joe Elnicky of Baldwin Park. Elnicky is one of the many persons in the First Supervisorial District who have taken their 1956 and 1957 tax bills to Bonelli to show the "outrageous increases." Elnicky's 1956 tax was $187.69, but it's $283.02 this year—an increase of 50.26%. Bonelli is seeking State legislation to limit the tax increase to 5% in any one taxable year.

Gas Co. Taxes To County Set 46-Year High

Southern Counties Gas Co. has paid $1,094,704 to the County of Los Angeles as the first installment of its 1957-58 real and property taxes which, at the end of April, when the second installment is due, will total more than $2,100,000.

The payment, part of taxes paid by the utility to eight Southland counties, is the largest in the company's 46-year history, according to gas company local manager, R. E. Harbicht.

Throughout its system, Southern Counties paid $2,189,159.77 to eight counties as its first installment bringing its total real and property taxes for 1957-58 to more than $4,202,000. This total is up more than 20 per cent over last year's previous high, Harbicht reported.

These Exotic Dishes Are Easy to Prepare — and Eat

By Toni Maurin
Sierra Madre 7-9634

Mrs. Max (Leona) Straus, 225 N. Canyon Ave., is having a ball experimenting with cooking. She worked for a good many years and has just recently quit to be a housewife. She loves any dish that is exotic and yet easy to prepare, and these two that she gave me fill the bill in both cases.

PINEAPPLE GINGER SPARERIBS

4 lbs. farmer style spare-ribs
Salt, pepper, Accent
1 clove garlic minced
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 tsp. ground ginger
1 large onion
1 large green pepper
2 tbs. cooking oil
1 tbs. corn starch
2 tbs. cider vinegar
1 (No. 2) can pineapple chunks, drained

Cut spareribs into serving pieces and sprinkle lightly with salt, pepper and Accent. Place in a shallow pan and roast uncovered at 425°F. for 30 minutes. Drain off fat and reduce oven heat to 350°F.

Mix garlic with soy sauce, brown sugar and ginger. Pour evenly over the ribs. Peel onion, cut in eighths, cut each eighth in half, separate into layers. Cut green pepper into similar size pieces. Cook and stir vegetables in heated oil until shiny (it takes only a minute or so). Mix cornstarch with vinegar and 1 cup of pineapple syrup. Add to pan and cook, stirring until sauce becomes transparent.

Add pineapple chunks, pour over ribs. Bake uncovered for 45 minutes to an hour until ribs are tender, turning and basting occasionally.

With this dish, Mrs. Straus serves rice and the following vegetable.

CHINESE GREENS

1 pkg. fresh chop suey mixed greens
4 tbs. butter or peanut oil
2 tbs. soy sauce
1/4 tsp. Accent
2 tbs. water
1 tbs. corn starch
Heat butter or oil in a large sauce pan or skillet with a tight lid. Add cleaned greens (Chinese cabbage, celery and onion may be used instead of the mixed greens). Cover and cook about 4 minutes. Mix Accent, water, soy sauce and corn starch until it is smooth. Stir into vegetables and cook, stirring all of the time until sauce thickens. Serve immediately. You'll notice that there is very little cooking time. The Chinese believe that it destroys the flavor and the quality of vegetables to overcook them.

With this Mrs. Straus serves a tray of fortune cakes and almond cookies and loads of Chinese tea.

AS I SAID, Mrs. Straus worked as a real estate and insurance secretary for years. She moved to Sierra Madre when she was married five years ago. She met Mr. Straus in Hawaii at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel while

Country Cousins Holiday Dinner Dance

Golden Christmas bells sparkling with silver, will toll the good news of the annual black-tie dinner dance of the Country Cousins of Casa Colina Saturday night at the home of the Wilmer L. Heaters, 291 W. Foothill, Arcadia.

Proceeds from the dinner dance, as with all fund-raising activities of the Country Cousins, help the Casa Colina Convalescent Home in Chino to improve the health and capability of crippled children in order that they will be better able to return to normal family and community living.

Two saucy Santas on a stairway flanked by white and gold garlands will welcome, along with Mrs. Robert A. Busby, dance chairman, and Mrs. Herbert B. Pratt, benefit chairman, the Country Cousins and their friends.

Mr. Straus loves to cook and has promised me some of his favorite recipes in the near future.

Mrs. Warren C. Smith, decorations chairman, is using red, green, gold and white to create a Christmas Tree Room for cocktails, star-filled Starlight Rooms for dining and dancing, and gracious Wreath Room for quiet visiting.

Gay Santas, each playing a different musical instrument, will frame Joe Mosshay's orchestra as it plays through the evening.

Others serving on Mrs. Pratt's party committee, in addition to Mrs. Smith, are Mrs. William J. Moran, Mrs. Glennon Boldeman, Mrs. Elmer F. Morton, Mrs. Clarence L. Haserot, Mrs. Theodore J. Broadhead, Mrs. Harlan Nissen, Mrs. Paul Elmquist, Mrs. Kurt Von Bauer, Mrs. Heater, Mrs. William W. Cline and Mrs. Edward L. Butterworth.

under the direction of the boys up north, they'll never get to the Rose Bowl and we'll continue to take our annual beating. Not that we haven't been had before when they took part, but they are at least close enough where the screams of anguish have some effect.

SINCE THE trustees and regents of both schools already have declared their feelings and have meetings pending before New Year's, the scalpers won't have long to wait and see if they're out of business for good.

It must have been some solace to the SC coaching staff last week to know that they are not alone in abysmal failure. There is a new game on the horizon which involves tossing a ball into the ionosphere.

This apparently takes a lot of doing as old "Sputnik" showed the other day. As a matter of fact the ball wasn't put far enough to break the local Junior High record.

It seems that a necessity is a luxury that the Joneses have.
